Warning: contains stressful and provocative content, if you dont want to be "triggered", then dont read this. You have been warned.

My first ebook blog was about how satan has used his global soldiers, knowingly or unknowingly, to cause a divide between everyone on the planet. The adversary wants to isolate us so much from other people so that he can finish his “robots are better” plan. Robots and AI do not disobey the devil, after all, unless if God does an intervention against those autonomous devices. I believe that satan will pretend that his robots and drones become sentient. The other major goal the serpent has had is to bring in a fake alien invasion, in which he will use his demons and demon-possessed people to appear as the aliens, along with holograms and advanced planes. This will be used to make humans look even more useless, and will provide him with another excuse to kill humans. Additionally, if satan can change the DNA of humans via birth defects, vaccines, or other methods, then he will use that as a copyright excuse over humans, so that he can try to claim ownership of those with compromised DNA. There is hope in God and Jesus. satan will fail in the end.

In my last Lion's Roar I thought that the civil war would happen right away after Jan. 20th. Now it seems that that belief of mine was a bit naive, in that I thought patriots would either start right away to have their states secede, or march on the capitol. It still seems clear that the radical leftists, antifa, blm, satanists, and others, would have immediately revolted if the election was not stolen. One example that might explain a delay among patriots is the Romanian revolution in 1989. Although Romanians had a king and were not a republic or “democracy”, they could still see how horrible the conditions were in their country, once they were able to secretly hear radio broadcasts from Europe. Even after decades of being under a communist dictator, it still took a few big sparks to cause the people to rise up. The people were reactionary, and did not seem to have a plan. Although, God did seem to have a plan. Extreme financial hardship, near starvation, and even more brutal dictates in the 1980's were probably the things that really started the common desire for “freedom or death”. They had no freedom of religion, and once one of their pastors got arrested, along with other eastern European nations having revolutions, the people of Romania finally had enough. It is hard to find true information about the Romanian revolution, but the links below seem to have a few true aspects about them. I believe that God should be the one to lead any Revolution. I believe that God directed the USA to gain it's freedom from Great Britain. Perhaps God directed Romania's revolution also. God should be the one to tell his people to go out or to stay in, like he did with ancient Israel. This is one reason why the globalists fear and hate the followers of God. Anyway, I still believe that there will be a civil war again in the USA, but now I think it will be months or years away, and reactionary, and not really planned by the people. Although I don't fully agree with what the lady below was saying, the history of Yugoslavia is very similar to the USA so far.

According to the Kim Clement prophecy, Trump was supposed to be a two term president. Also he said that Bill Gates was going to help Christians financially. That seems extremely unlikely that Gates would help Christians. Trump was the rightfully voted for president, but the deep state / globalists caused voting fraud to happen and caused Biden to be put in as president. Does that count as Trump having a second term? Or will Trump be elected again in the future? Or is this a false prophecy? Maybe if states on the right secede, they will ask Trump to lead them? Qanon seems to be a globalist agent also, as some of their predictions were false, or at best, interpreted wrong. I believe they were false or purposeful lies. The globalists wanted people to do nothing, so they could have caused both Qanon and Kim Clement to say what they did. Gates has been buying farm land in the USA and now owns the most farmland in the USA. He has done many harms to people in the software and vaccine industries. How could he possibly help the followers of God unless his farmland is somehow given to followers of God, perhaps if Gates is prosecuted.

Will Antifa and BLM members kill or harm more trump supporters and Christians in the future?

They have already harassed, threatened, abused, and done worse to pretty much anyone who they don't like or who disagrees with them. Like any group of people, there are some decent people among them, but in general, I believe that most of Antifa and BLM are bad or evil people. Christians having to form house churches, or even fleeing into the wilderness, will not just be fleeing from terrorists who are trying to harm them, but also because of regulations made by politicians. It may even be police departments or branches of the military that tries to enforce leftist gun, health, or religious laws or regulations. Patriot Nurse explains some of these things well in the second link below. She explain about a recent IED explosion in a California church and other related things in the second video. Last year, it seems that at least one Antifa member was caught while they were trying to either start wild fires or after they had already done so. Its not hard to guess who might have burned a church down in the USA now.

When we have detailed or out of the ordinary dreams that we remember well when we wake up, we need to ask God if it was from him, or our own mind, or satan. If it is from God we should ask him to give us the correct interpretation of it, and if we add our own theories, we need to remember they are theories. If we tell anyone, we need to tell them also if any of the interpretation is our own opinion. These same things apply to visions. If we get a word or message that we believe is from God, we should ask him to confirm it to us. If a true prophet is giving a message from God to somebody, they should say "thus says the Lord" or "God wants me to tell you", etc. If they don't say that, then it is probably just their own opinion or a prediction with their own mind.

On to some happier thoughts. The gathering together of God's saints that he has been doing, and will be doing, is in many different places and forms. Even during the virus scam of 2020, God has gathered his people together in online websites like Parler, Gab, and even with group 'calls' on Zoom, Discord, and other online sites. Even video sites like Twitch, Dlive, Brighteon, Bitchute, and banned.video have helped to gather people somewhat, while also informing them of what is really going on. Tiktok which became famous for teenagers and young people acting foolish, has even become a place where Christians can spread the gospel and even livestream. Many of these followers of Jesus had already lost the ability or desire to go to the churches that they were going to, due to the virus scam, church leader corruption, tyrannical orders, or financial hardship. But now these 'religious' refugees have found more truth, and maybe even better fellowship.

The globalists led by their master satan, whether they know it or not, have tried to silence our ability to talk about truth, God, and Jesus. But they failed. Persecution always makes the gospel spread and be embraced even more. This might be because when evil is exposed in the public view, the good can also be seen better as well, in contrast. There might be more evil exposed to the public view now more than ever before. People are having to choose good or evil, and will not be able to stay luke-warm much longer. More people are open to the truth than perhaps at any other time in history. Many many people want to leave the evil places they are living in to find a safer, better place. I believe God has been moving many people, and will continue to do so. Even during this coming civil war, I believe he will be moving his saints.

As the adversary causes more and more persecution of the followers of God and Jesus, there will be less and less church buildings left. Most, or maybe even all of those that remain will be controlled by the government, even more than they are now, via 501C3 and other means. Even in recent years many pastors and churches were told what they can and cannot say due to their 501C3 contracts with the IRS and other agreements with other agencies. If they disobey those authorities that they are in contract with, they could lose their tax exemptions, or worse. Even now in China, the churches are CCP controlled, and have been for years. Followers of God who want freedom in fellowship have had to meet in secret. They have suffered arrests and even worse. I believe this CCP situation is a model for the future.

Many people on the left have become more ruthless, heartless, and willing to commit or allow violence against other people (especially those on the right, Christians, or arms owners). Even many supposed Christians on the left might be willing to have Christians on the right arrested, or even killed. Their justifications would be thoughts like: "It's for the greater good", "They supported a racist", "They supported a misogynist", "They are homophobic", and so forth. Most people have grown cold and selfish. I have heard of one dream, and one vision, that supports this theory that "Christians" on the left will support the killing or detainment of Christians on the right. Although this seems like it should be in my earlier topic "Separation", it has more to do with this Gathering of God's real saints. In a way, this is a sorting of the wheat and tares, once again (but maybe not the main event described in Revelation). The state approved churches might be full of these fake or shallow Christians who would support the harming of other Christians. While there could be a few righteous public churches left that don't get burned down, silenced, or controlled, I doubt it.

God's kingdom is not a denomination. God has provided his "doctrine" for us in the Bible. The reason there are different denominations is because people have either interpreted the Bible incorrectly, used a version of the Bible that does not use the best translation, or simply do not care about the truth and prefer rules of men. I believe that most Christians have not read all of the Bible, and many do not even read it daily. When many Christians read a verse they do not understand, instead of asking God to show them the interpretation, they ask a pastor or teacher who is invested in a denomination. Most people think they cannot find the truth with just God's direction only. They think they need a college graduate to explain the Bible to them.

Now, as many churches are closing down due to the virus scam, and or church leader corruptions, many Christians are starting to read the Bible for themselves, and they are asking God to show them the truth. I believe that in time, most followers of God will be believing most of the same things, and will not be claiming to be a part of a denomination. They will be led by God into the belief and "doctrine" of his Kingdom that he describes in the Bible. Followers of God need to learn what the best Hebrew Old testament is, which Greek new testament is best, and which translations of them are best. They need to realize that God's original Bible is perfect, without an error.

There is history of followers of God being led in the forests and wilderness to avoid persecutions and genocides. The links below are of some Jews who escaped German genocide attempts. I have heard of stories of followers of God fleeing Russia also. The Waldensians were persecuted by the Roman Catholic Church. In some of the persecutions against Jews in Jerusalem, I believe that God told people to flee. There are many historical precedences where God saved people from persecution or genocide and protected them during their escape and hiding. During Noah's time, everyone must have heard why Noah was building a ship. Perhaps if some of them repented, God might have saved them from the flood on the Ark also. Did God take Noah and his family into the air until the flood was over? No. He provided a safe place for Noah and his family during the flood. <https://www.ramapo.edu/holocaust/e-news/real-story-behind-film-defiance-told-by-son-of-real-life-protagonist/>

I believe that God will lead many followers of God in the United States of America into the forests and wilderness to escape tyranny and persecution, even this year, even during civil war. I believe that much like in the movie Defiance, we will make do, and perhaps even under better circumstances than the people who had to flee into the forests in Poland and other places. This is because God might be moving with greater miracles than at that time, or perhaps we will be better supplied. In some cases saints might be able to live on privately owned land with permission, either in secret or just in a safer location. God might have some saints go from house to house, where they are accepted, and where God tells them to, to spread his message to those who are seeking God but need some answers or help. We may not even be allowed by God to say the locations of these safe places on the internet, our phones, or on other digital devices or networks. God might choose to only tell people of the locations in dreams, visions, or by sending saints or angels to other followers of God. We need to read the Bible, ask God to do his will in our lives, and ask him to help us hear him better, and to know that it is him when he send us a message.

God gave me the title and topic of this ebook blog before I came across a twitch user. She had daily online prayer gatherings on twitch called "The Gathering". When I first saw her broadcast it felt like a confirmation to me from God concerning the title and topic of this ebook blog.

God does not want his followers to be afraid or to worry. Ask God to do his will in your life. Ask him to forgive you of your sins, which was made possible by his son Jesus dying for our sins, so that we wouldn't have to. Jesus was resurrected three days later and will come back to take us with him. We will probably have to go through many trials but God and Jesus will help his followers. Ask God to adopt you and to be your Father. Ask him to help you to know where to go and what to do. Ask him to confirm it to you if you are not sure. Ask him for faith, peace, and for the ability to show mercy on those he wants to show mercy to. It is not enough to just believe that God exists, even satan knows that God exists. We need to become part of God's family, and do what God wants us to in our lives. I believe God has 'work' or a 'mission' for each of his followers.

In Isa 43:20 it says "The beast of the field shall honour me, the dragons and the owls: because I give waters in the wilderness, and rivers in the desert, to give drink to my people, my chosen." Again, I recommend that you read the whole chapter, but I believe this verse, and also others, show us that we do not need to fear the animals in the wilderness while God is leading us through it. God might allow times where we might have to fight a wild animal like what happened with David or Sampson, but I Believe that those were special situations where that was a testimony about God's providence and God working through people.

"In the beginning was the Word, and the Word was with God, and the Word was God. The same was in the beginning with God." (John 1:1-2) I recommend that you read all of John chapter 1. God was with his Son, the Word, but God felt a need for his "Bride" or "Church", or more simply put, his true followers. He wanted to interact with people and have a family, non-sexual (some people might get strange ideas if I don't say that because the Bible uses the Bride as a comparison for the Church) relationship with them. He wanted to interact with animals and see us and them be happy. He wanted us and himself and his Son to see beautiful things so he made plants, and so forth. God realized that just as he needed his Bride (Saints or Followers), Adam needed his Bride, so he made Eve for him. God wants his followers to also find a spouse who is a follower of him. There may be exceptions, where some people don't want a spouse and so God does not require or plan for them to find a spouse. It could be also, that if a person becomes evil, or even "luke-warm", then the spouse God planned for them would not want them. This could be why some people have not found a spouse yet, but for good people who follow God, the meeting of spouses have to be at the right time or their relationship might not be successful otherwise. I believe that part of the gathering together of saints is also a joining of couples into Godly marriages. These are the kind that do not require a government or corporation's contract to be recognized or evaluated. I have wrote about this more in my free ebook "Christian Myths".
