Most of the topics that I raise up in this mini-ebook, or blog, will be in as much of a chronological order as possible, as to when they started happening in the world, but might be a bit off.

Perhaps more than any other time in history we are seeing the destruction of almost every family in the United States of America, and most of the world.

Social classes have existed in societies for thousands of years. It was often based on wealth or status or royalty. There were ancient celebrity types of classes like Roman Gladiators, or Mayan ball players. Slavery was also used since ancient times to divide people based on race, language, or religion. Although these classes still exist in our world, we have recently entered a globalist extreme where there are not only exalted global agencies, but hidden powers that pull the strings. Special protected groups are now exalted over people in other groups, with no concern for reason or common sense. Who wants to look at the big picture when there are things in front of us to yell about?

The inventions of the radio, television, and the internet have made it increasingly easier for the corporations and conglomerations to change our opinions, and bring us into one collective mind.

For many decades now, America has seen feminism tear down the foundations of our family structures. At the beginning, one of the globalists agendas was to cause women to feel at least somewhat rebellious, by persuading them to start smoking via ads, movies, and other methods. Not only was the cigarette a sexual, phallic symbol, it was a symbol of a woman being free to do what she wanted, regardless of what her husband wanted. One of the goals was to cause women to want to be more desirable to men in general, even if they were married.

The contrived World War 2 started the trend of putting women in the workplace, and separating them from their children, mentally, physically, and emotionally. It would lead to more workers wanting jobs overall, and lower the average wages. The insane inflation caused by the evil deeds of the federal reserve after 1913 started the demise of the value of the dollar. Husbands would be further injured in more contrived wars as time went on. Many of these men would no longer be able to work, and would rely on their now working wives.

It could be said that having political parties is a healthy thing in our nations. Perhaps this is true, but it could also be debated that it causes division and thus we all should just vote without any party affiliations. As time has gone by, corruption has flooded our political parties. The democratic party for example has become an extreme socialist leftist haven that has cause many democrats to abandon their own party. Although political party affiliations within a family can cause severe strife, the strife caused by a mass exodus of democrats from their own party might be even worse for families. Accusations of being a traitor, a racist, a far-right winger, a bigot, and ect, can destroy family relations that once stood strong once a democrat leaves their party.

Once women were able to vote, it made it easier for the democrats to get more voters. By deception, social pressure, fads, and the gradual dominance of the Media, most voters were voting for the very people who would usher in the further destruction of our families. Women would begin to lead the family discussions on who should be voted for. The husband who would have had this role, was now swimming in the newly created cesspool of feminism. Previously, while only the husband could vote, the caring ones would ask the whole family what they thought regarding politics, and then decide for the whole family. Now the husband and wife feel more divided and can vote separately, and sometimes talking less. In some cases the feminists control both votes of the family.

Women would be further 'freed' during the sexual revolution. They would gradually become free to be promiscuous, free to use birth control, and free to kill their babies. This reduced the birthrate in the country over time.

The War on drugs and felony jail time for non-violent crimes made a vast "criminal" class of people in our country, many of whom have never been convicted of a violent or damaging crime. While there are many abusive men, many of them are not, but still get ground up by the teeth of the corrupted justice system. Many women even use accusations to hurt or destroy the men who they begin to hate. We have a class structure where "criminals" are just one branch on the bottom.

Laxed border security has helped the democrats gain millions of illegal immigrant voters. Although most of them are good people, many of them are not fluent in English, further dividing local communities.

As feminism grew, it became the norm for women to wear the pants in the relationship, even if at the surface she wanted her man to appear as being the head of the household. Many women would just remain single, or have children and then quickly leave their man. It would eventually become a rare thing to meet a person whose parents were still married. Most family units would become single parent families. With only one income, more workers, and more inflation, poverty became wide-spread.

More and more husbands and wives are getting divorced. Boyfriends and girlfriends are splitting up. If their man does practice the latest trends, doesn't repeat the latest feminist jargon, or can't find a job, he is discarded for a quick replacement. Men who grew up without a dad, or with a dad in jail, often never learned how to properly treat a woman. Almost everyone is becoming cold, bitter, and hateful. All they can think about is their next high or next hook-up. More and more women are selling their bodies to make ends meet or for their own enjoyment. More men are getting sick of feminism and have decided to just pay for the attention or satisfaction they get.

The Media, Hollywood, and globalists caused race war further divides people into smaller groups, while religious intolerance causes further divide. Sexual orientation, political viewpoints, and opinions become more important than doing good and treating others with kindness. White man bad.

Social engineers convince our college students that socialism and communism is the answer. False flags are staged to blame capitalism for all of the financial problems. Hoaxes and misinformation are spread to cause hate and resentment of the police.

As the globalists pay terrorist organizations like Antifa to loot, riot, and destroy small businesses under the excuse of justice and equality, many fatherless, most feminists, the satanists, and the crazies don't mind destroying their cities for the money they need to buy the entertainment, drugs or sex they want. Violent criminals who would have been in jail are being freed by democrats and leftists, to further destroy the nation they live in, because, if the democrats can't run the nation, they want to destroy it.

Perhaps never before in history, the people of the Earth have been divided. Perhaps never before has there been so many radical groups to be divided into. Each one hating the others. Each one being the only solution to the world's globalist created problems.

The beginning of the end of truth sharing in public is at our doorstep. The sheep obey the social distancing hoax that keeps them hating their neighbors. Masks aid in the globalist agenda of preventing public communication. Contact tracing is the new paint job over the gulag arrests.

In the Agenda 21 (Agenda 2030), the globalists declared their intentions of moving the remaining people of the world into major cities. They would reduce world populations gradually to the numbers that they declared they wanted in the Georgia guidestones. They would do this by wars, famines, poisons, gang creation, tyrant supporting, and now by using paid agitators to destroy small businesses that didn't go bankrupt from the covid bull shit. The cities will tightly control the remaining population of the world and separate them from their relatives and loved ones who refuse to go along with the globalist system. Those "deviants" will either be put in concentration camps with fancy names, or they will flee into forests or other terrain that might be able to conceal them.

When will the Robots will be granted personhood after gaining all the jobs? When will a man be convicted of murder for killing a robot? The 5G kill grid will be activated on a target by target basis. Those who know the truth will be targeted. The globalists will gain omnipresence through technological back doors. Any threat to their control grid will be eliminated. Elites hide in their underground bases, Shadow Governments try to weed out any resistance. Divided we are Conquered.

If we enter into another civil war, it will not be an even split of a country with one side fighting the other over falsified and propagandized reasons. This time it will be a separation of neighborhoods from their cities, cities from their counties, and counties from their states. It will be a survival on the local level. Anarchists think they need to burn everything down to have their dream gang. Leftists want their socialism. Criminals want their loot. Gangs want to expand. Mayors want to grovel. Governors try to ascend. Those who hate freedom trying to stomp out those who are still free. Are you free?

Have your "solutions" been working? Have your entitlements and equalities given you equality? Who rules you? Who do you owe money to? Who feeds you? Who do you work for? Are you happy? When the cities burn, who will supply your drugs? Your money? Your sex? Will the robots need you around? Learn to code?

Maybe you told yourself that God doesn't exist, or he hates us, or he is evil. Are you going to trust Media now? Or the Colleges? Or Hollywood? Who will help you when Antifa, the UN, China, or the robots come to disarm you and put you in the camps? Maybe God will exist to you then.

Or maybe you should ask him and Jesus for help now. But, maybe you want a few more highs, a few more hook-ups, a few more lootings before you ask for help?

Many of these things have been foretold in the Bible. Specifically in Luke, in Chapter 12. I encourage you to read all of Chapter 12 of Luke. It covers many end times related topics, many of which I have talked about in this blog.

Many of the topics in this blog are from what I learned in all of my studies for about 14 years now. I may add links that provide evidence to what I was saying in the second edition of this blog if anyone is truly interested. If you want to know why I am saying a particular thing in this blog, feel free to ask me.

Being the first edition of this book and the first book of this series, I would love to hear your feedback after you read my book. Also if you have topics you would like me to talk about I would love to hear your suggestions by email at my_path_of_life@yahoo.com.

I am an author of six free PDF books. Two are about the Bible and cover topics like: history, languages, doctrines, trustworthiness, structure, mathematics, gematria, versions, and religions relating to the Bible. Four of my books focus in detail on the Hebrew language. You can find them here: <https://learn-hebrew-from-genesis.weebly.com/>
