Civil War, although a form of separation (hence my title for the mini-ebook preceding this one), is much more than just a form of separation. Because I did not want to just tack this subject onto an update of the previous book in this series, and because of how tragic this coming war will be, I have decided to make it into its own topic.

The second civil war will happen in the United States of America on or before Jan. 20th, 2021. This is not a prediction, it is the conclusion of many obvious signs. Not only has the first civil war proven that brothers will fight brothers, one side not caring about the humanity of others, and the other side trying to right a wrong, but that people can be manipulated to carry on the agenda, and plan, of the global groups who have always wanted the USA to fall, ever since it won the revolutionary war.

The global manipulation of the political, social, entertainment, and even judicial systems of the USA has been occurring ever since the original thirteen colonies decided to band together to oppose the British tyranny. This manipulation has included the purposeful distraction and decrease in intelligence of the general public. This was done by changing what was taught in the schools, what topics were covered in television and radio shows, the vaccines and medications people could and would take, what chemicals and toxins were allowed in our food, and more.

In recent years, globalists like George Soros, have allegedly funded groups like antifa and BLM while directing them to do terrorist activities. This is my belief, and the belief of many, in my opinion. These globalists have used the military doctrine of Divide and Conquer, because this is a war that they have waged on the people of the USA for many many years now. Divide and Conquer has been used by many many nations and agencies throughout history.

There may be a bill filed for Texas to secede from the United States of America. The reason seems to be because of SCOTUS refusing to hear Texas's lawsuit against the other four states recently. It is likely that many other states would also propose bills to secede if Texas passes this bill. It could also be that several Blue states like California and New York secedes when Trump is inaugurated again, and the Red states would then act as the new "Union" to bring them back under the Constitution of the United States of America.

Trump has called for people to peacefully protest in Washington D.C. on Jan 6th due to massive corruption in our country. His reason seems to be "to prevent a foreign take over" of the USA. This is probably referring to the deep state and or globalist activities in the USA. Antifa and other leftists have already tried to cause trouble in D.C. This protest on the 6th could bring an official start to the civil war.

Trump Declares National Emergency! Calls For Americans To March Against The Swamp January 6, 2021

It has come to the point that most of the extreme leftists, who have aligned themselves with the nefarious globalist agencies that seek to destroy the USA, are now, and even have been, willing to commit crimes to see that the Democrat party wins this 2020 election. They are so invested, and have everything to lose if Trump wins, that they are willing to do anything now, to prevent him from being inaugurated again on Jan. 20th, 2021, and this includes civil war. They failed to make him step down, they failed to impeach him, and they failed to have him assassinated. This is one of the few remaining options they see as to how to deal with Trump.

If Trump loses, and the left steals the election, patriots will have almost no choice to protest, seek legal actions, or maybe even more drastic things. The democrat puppets that plan to take office will be very cruel in their actions against patriots, and patriots know that. They will feel like they have to take action or suffer.

Many in the South knew that they were planning on seceding from the Union for at least many months beforehand. They did sabotages to aid their future war. One example was buying lots of weapons on the taxpayer dime, and sending them into key locations in the south.

At the very start of the first civil war of the USA, not only did the army, navy, and other forces essentially split, the south took as many forts, weapons and supplies as they could, before the war was even really going yet. There were also agents in the north who supported the south, who still help political offices, state positions, and even important city leadership roles. These agents worked to destroy documents, supplies, and do all sorts of harm that they could think of in order to hinder the North. Maybe of these acts of sabotage were done even months before the civil war officially started.

Similar things will happen again. It seems so very unlikely that entire branches of the USA military forces would side with one side or the other in this future civil war, and so it would make sense there each branch of the USA military will see their own splits, perhaps even by regiments, divisions, or even small strike forces or seal teams. If somehow the Army or National guard took one side of the civil war or the other, there would undoubtedly be many defectors, for example. So even in that rare case, there will still be a division of forces. There might even be some trouble determining who we can trust in each of the “Red” constitutional states as the “Blue” leftist agents do their damage. They will be easy to spot once they do their harm, and even maybe before, if the CIA or FBI start helping us instead of working to hurt us like they mostly have been. Of course, not all of the members of the CIA and FBI are bad, but I believe a majority of them are, and have been. I believe that the leftist Blue will sabotage railways, bridges, and highways in order to hinder movement of their own citizens, and to hinder the Red to take back land. The Dems have allegedly made deals with China and may even allow Chinese troops to fight the Red Constitutional states in their own states.

Although the British officially declared that they were neutral in the American Civil War, were they really neutral? It seems that the British supplied weapons, ships, and even ship crews to the Confederacy during the civil war in exchange for cotton, which it used for many war related things like canvas, clothing and even for firearms. Supposedly France wanted to help the Confederacy in order to create an empire in Mexico. Russia sent two fleets to America just in case the Union accepted their offer of help, and to seemingly prevent the official involvement of Britain and France in the war.

There will be some different things in this soon coming second American Civil War. Some cities will mostly be burned to the ground. These will probably be leftist controlled cities, as we have already seen how leftist controlled cities let the bad members of Antifa and BLM loot, riot, and harm people with little or no consequences for them, despite them being labeled as terrorist organizations. The globalists and most leftists want us to only be in big cities that they control. This is one of the reasons why they are fine with the cities they are ruling being burned down. Many of those mayors of those cities that will get burned can still keep their bribe money, and other wealth that they gained due to being in office. They wont care if they no longer have a city to rule, because they already have jobs offered to them by their rulers and buddies. They don't have much fear of their reputation being ruined, because they know the media is on the same side as them.

I do believe that, like Lincoln in his time, Trump was meant to be our commander in chief at this time. Although the future will be much like a woman travailing in birth, I think that Trump will do better than almost anyone else could. I do believe that the nation will be united again after this coming civil war, but, it could remain split, like North and South Korea, for example. The American Civil War was about four years, from 1861 to 1865. So this one may be of similar length. Amir Tsarfati believes that Russia, Turkey, Iran, and others will attack Israel in the future, and that the USA will not be helping Israel in that war. He uses Bible verses to come to this prediction. If he is right, it could be that the USA is in a civil war during that time, or still recovering from one.

We do not need to fear if we seek to have a relationship with God and Jesus, ask them to forgive us for our sins, and ask them to protect us and do their will in our lives. Fear is how most of the globalists and leftists control and manipulate people, as they have learned this tactic from satan himself.

If this ebook becomes popular enough to where people want more links, I may look them up and update this ebook. Until then, ask God and Jesus to lead you to the truth in his will and timing.

I must admit that I did not figure this civil war “prediction” out myself, although it has now become much more obvious to the point that many popular streamers have expressed opinions that they think a civil war will happen or is likely. I had a dream I believe was from God, I have heard things from people who have claimed to be giving messages from God, and the recent events have made it even more clear to me.

I am an author of seven free PDF books. Two are about the Bible and cover topics like: history, languages, doctrines, trustworthiness, structure, mathematics, gematria, Bible versions, and religions relating to the Bible. One of these is the previous mini-ebook in this series called "Separation". Four of my books focus in detail on the Hebrew language.
